

SAHM AM24 Works in Progress Research Symposium Submission Deadline: December 21, 2023 (closes 11:59 p.m. EST). Submission Instructions

Before beginning your submission, please review the following information.

Purpose

This session is designed to provide a forum for trainees and early-career faculty (within 5 years of completing training) for feedback and discussion about common challenges faced in the early stages of research. It is not intended for discussion of completed research projects. This symposium is designed to allow participants to obtain and provide feedback in a facilitated discussion with peers about projects that are in the planning or early development stages. Discussions will be moderated by senior investigators with general expertise in the topic areas of discussion. Abstracts will be selected based on how they facilitate this type of discussion.

Before you begin the submission process, please note the following:

- Abstract submission for this session is only open to trainees and those who are no more than 5 years beyond completion of their training.
- Priority will be given to individuals who do not have other opportunities to present at the SAHM meeting (including traditional research presentations and the mentoring forum).

The Works in Progress session will use a small group discussion format, with authors grouped by interests, stages of their projects, methods, etc. Authors will bring copies of their abstract to share in the small group and prepare a brief 2–3-minute presentation of their work and key challenges or questions for next steps (no slides or posters will be presented in this forum). Senior faculty will moderate groups based on research challenge topic areas. The small groups will come back together for the final part of the session to share some lessons learned and action steps for moving forward.
